

Our Daily Bread

Sliced Thin by The Editor

Alex. H. Washburn

That Income Tax

Mousetrap Still

Needs Some Help

Dr. Emmett Thompson's income tax story goes like this:

One Negro was explaining to another about the federal short form:

"A. Now 'A' means how much money did you get."

"B. It means how much have you got left."

"C. Send it to us."

The Mousetrap Needs

Advertising

(Charlotte, N. C., Observer)

The old saw that, if a man makes a better mousetrap, the world will beat a path to his door, is only conditionally true. If the world does not know the man has made the mousetrap, or, if it is not convinced that it is a better one, no path will be beaten. Grass will grow on his doorstep, even though he confronts the mice with a more terrifying problem than belling the cat.

It is advertising that tells the world first that the trap has been made. But that is not enough. It must be supplemented by a skillful appeal to the wants and desires of prospective customers. The people must be made to want the trap, for, if they don't want it, the inventor could have a warehouse full and never sell one. Finally, the customer must be made to want this particular kind of trap in preference to other brands.

By making the people want what our inventive genius and our industry can produce for their comfort and convenience, advertising has done as much as any one force to give us the standard of living that is the envy of the world. It works in an endless circle that creates wealth. By increasing sales, it raises the earnings of business. With those earnings, industry expands its operations. This expansion makes more jobs, so that more people can buy the products. It is, therefore, the spark plug of our creative capitalism.

It has, however, its responsibilities. So many techniques have been developed to appeal to the wants of buyers that the advertiser must be careful that the claims he makes for his product are honest. The dishonest advertiser is automatically punished. A customer once fooled does not come back. If that happened often enough, such an advertiser soon finds himself without customers.

It is no coincidence that America, with the highest living standard in the world, has also the most highly developed advertising, and, on the whole, the most honest. To realize its importance, try to imagine this country with no advertising at all. How could you ever find out what to buy or where to buy it?

Ex-Resident of Spring Hill Dies

Thomas B. Collins 47, of Houston, Texas, died at his home on Thursday night. He is a former resident of Springhill.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30, at Springhill Baptist Church. Burial will be in Hockabea.

Survivors include his widow, his mother, Mrs. Ed Collins of Houston, three sons, Carl Ray of Houston, Billy Ed and Bobby Lee of the U.S. Navy, one brother, Virgil two sisters, Mrs. Elbert Tarpley of Springhill and Mrs. James Martin of Houston.

Weisenberger Seeks Office of Prosecutor

Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Royce Weisenberger today announced his candidacy for the office of prosecuting attorney of the Eighth Judicial Circuit consisting of Hempstead, Nevada, Lafayette and Miller counties.

Mr. Weisenberger mailed his corrupt practice pledge to Little Rock Friday and submitted his resignation as deputy. However, Prosecutor Lookadoo has requested Mr. Weisenberger to continue to serve until completion of the regular April term of court.

$1.3 Million for Fort Smith Armory

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Guard Bureau at Washington allotted $1,300,000 yesterday for the construction of an Arkansas National Guard air base at Fort Smith.

The base, which will be built at the Fort Smith Municipal Airport, will house the recently authorized 194th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron.

Arkansas Adj. Gen. Lucien Abraham announced the allotment. Abraham also said the bureau has approved construction of equipment service centers at Marianna, Warren and Rogers. The centers, which will cost about $25,000 each, will be branches of the maintenance shops at Camp Robinson.

Hope Star

55TH YEAR: VOL. 55 — NO. 119

Star of Hope 1899, Press 1927 Consolidated Jan. 18, 1929

HOPE, ARKANSAS, SATURDAY, MARCH 6, 1954

Member: The Associated Press & Audit Bureau of Circulations
Av. Not Paid Circ. & Mod. Ending Sept. 30, 1953 — 3,246

PRICE 5c COPY

Stuart Charms Crowd at Hope C. of C. Banquet

A speech by a witty visiting Irishman and a fine musical program of local singers featured the annual banquet of Hope Chamber of Commerce in the high school Friday night.

Ian Stuart of Nashville, Tenn., director of public relations for the Southern States Industrial Council, was the speaker. Born in Ireland he came to America in 1947 at the invitation of Princeton University. He is reputed to be the only educator who has held executive school posts in three countries, Ireland, England, and the United States.

Mr. Stuart was an All-British athlete in both track and football, and today he devoted the same energy in traveling around America preaching the virtues of our way of life, with a particular slant toward youth. He told his audience Friday night he still thinks of himself as a teacher and preacher.

He said the Free World has a strength which the Iron Curtain countries do not have — and that is, belief in God.

And some Old Country humor cropped out at the very beginning of his speech. Said Mr. Stuart:

A visitor complained that Ireland was cold, wet, and full of Catholics. Retorted a native:

"Well, you could try Hell — it's hot, dry, and full of Protestants."

Henry Haynes opened the program with invocation, which was followed by Mrs. Ed Ogran in two songs, accompanied by Luther Hollamon, Jr. The Rev. Ed Pendleton sang two numbers — and both singers and pianist were given an ovation.

Kenneth Ambrose, president of Hope Chamber of Commerce, introduced the program as something of a departure from conventional chamber banquet meetings. He talked briefly of the Hope delegation's appearance in Washington in behalf of Millwood dam, and said he thought the whole issue of river development was well received by the senators.

Mr. Ambrose introduced Guy E. Bayne, who in turn introduced the featured speaker, Mr. Stuart.

Mr. Ambrose paid special tribute to the following for their work in preparing the annual program—the dinner was laid in the high school cafeteria and the speaking program transferred to the auditorium upstairs:

Fred Gresham, Frank King, and Fred Robertson, for their work as the arrangements committee.

Mrs. Carl Stuart and her excellent cafeteria staff.

Mrs. Lahroy Spates, Mrs. Fred Gresham, and Mrs. Ray Lawrence, for the decorations.

And all the chamber members who worked on ticket sales for the annual event.

Army Hasn't Coddled Reds, Adlai Says

By JACK BELL

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson agrees with President Eisenhower that the Army has not coddled Communists but he reportedly was prepared today to criticize Eisenhower's leadership on domestic and foreign policy issues.

Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee, was scheduled for a major speech at a party rally here tonight in which he planned to outline his views on the major issues of this year's campaign for control of Congress.

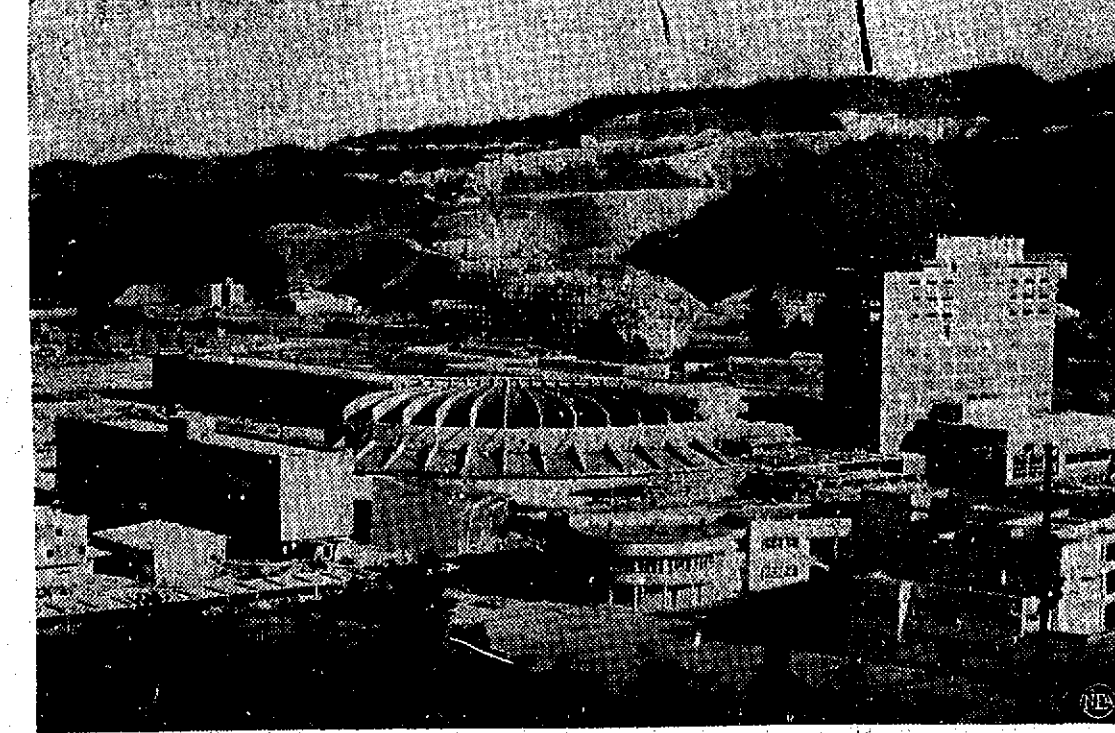

The former Illinois governor told a news conference on his arrival here yesterday he does not believe the Army has coddled Communists — as charged by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) — any more than previous democratic administrations had knowingly permitted "subversives, traitors or spies" to remain in the government.

He avoided direct questions about McCarthy but said he did not believe the Wisconsin senator's investigation of alleged Communists in government would be a major factor in the congressional campaign.

Although some of the Democrats rallying here for a southeastern party conference avoided any direct criticism of Eisenhower, Stevenson was said by friends to be ready to launch a frontal assault on the President for the first time since he was defeated by Eisenhower in 1952.

Stevenson told a news conference yesterday he planned to discuss Eisenhower's strained relations with McCarthy, which have been pointed up by the latest verbal clash over the Wisconsin senator's assertion the Army had been "coddling Communists."

Several thousand mice are milked regularly in New York City as part of a scientific project, says the National Geographic Society.

INTER-AMERICAN CONFERENCE SITE—This is a general view of the University City building in Caracas, Venezuela, where the 10th Inter-American Conference will convene on March 1. Central structure with indented roof is the main auditorium, where general sessions will be held. The tall building at right is the library where committees will meet to study special subjects.

70 Home Club Women Attend Spring Council

Over 70 members of the Hempstead County Home Demonstration Council attended the spring council meeting held Wednesday in the Hope City Hall.

The meeting opened with group singing "America" with Mrs. Lester Kent of Liberty Hill leading and Mrs. J. E. McWilliams, Hinton Club at the piano.

Mrs. H. E. Patterson, Melrose Club, and council president, introduced Rev. Virgil Keeley, First Methodist Church, Hope. He gave the devotional reading from Ephesians 1:22: "And hath put all things under his feet, and gave him to be the head over all things to the church..."

He urged the club members to return to their committee and give their best, also to reflect on these things:

Fifteen clubs answered the roll call, followed by reports including the treasurer's report by Mrs. Art Fincher of Shover Springs Club, county council secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Patterson introduced Mrs. Hazel Jordan, state home demonstration agent, of Little Rock. As speaker of the morning, Mrs. Jordan's discussion on "changing times" held on to that which is good and beauty spots around the home" was most interesting.

The meeting adjourned at noon for lunch. Centerville club was hostess.

The meeting reconvened at 1:00 p. m. with group singing led by Mrs. Eldridge Formby, Hinton, and Mrs. McWilliams at the piano.

Mrs. Patterson introduced Mrs. John Keck, Hopewell club, county legislation leader, who introduced Representative Talbot Fields, Jr., local attorney who spoke on "County officers and their duties."

The question and answer session following Mrs. Fields discussion created much interest among the members.

Mrs. Patterson, presided during the business session when plans were made for talent night date to be announced later. National H. D. Week is to be observed May 3-8 and Mrs. D. B. Drago was appointed chairman for it. The group display committee for it. The group is to send Mrs. Patterson to Washington, D. C. in November to the National H. D. meeting.

Each guest speaker received a small gift of appreciation.

Applauds Nomination of Negro to Board

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican and Democratic members of the Senate Labor Committee today applauded President Eisenhower's nomination of a Missouri Negro to be assistant secretary of labor but stressed they would not be influenced by his race in considering confirmation.

"We're interested in his qualifications, not the color of his skin," said the committee chairman, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ).

The nominee, 60-year-old J. Ernest Wilkins, now is a Chicago attorney and a lifelong Republican. He is the first Negro to be named to a post of comparable rank in more than 40 years since William H. Lewis served as an assistant to the president in the administration of President William Howard Taft.

Smith said his committee will hold hearings on the nomination next week. Presidential appointments are subject to confirmation by the senate.

New Hope Cemetery Working March 8

New Hope Cemetery, south of Hope on the Patmos road will be cleaned on Monday, March 8. All interested persons are asked to come and help.

Father's Night Planned by Junior Senior PTA

Hope Junior-Senior High School PTA will hold its annual Father's Night Thursday, March 11, in the Junior auditorium.

Mrs. Jim McKenzie will be moderator in a panel discussion on "How Can We Prevent Juvenile Delinquency in Our Community."

On the panel will be Chancellor James H. Pilkinton, the Rev. V. D. Keeley and Charles Gough, Parks and Recreation director.

Special music and refreshments are on the program.

Results at Stake in Big Geneva Parley

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

MOSCOW (AP) — Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov said today results of the Berlin conference can be measured only by what happens when the Big Four meet April 26 with Communist China and other nations at Geneva to discuss peace in Asia.

In a 7,500-word report on the Berlin talks, which ended 15 days ago, Molotov reiterated Soviet charges that Western defense preparations point to a third world war. He blamed the United States and Britain for East-West disagreements that remained unresolved.

The statement, played up in all Moscow newspapers and broadcast by the Moscow radio, criticized U. S. Secretary of State Dulles for making speeches about the conference "representing himself as a zealous champion of the freedom of peoples and the champion of free elections."

"Certain defenders of freedom like such freedom as gives exploiters and militarists a free hand and a life of plenty, while the laboring people live under the constant shadow of war and fresh annihilation," Molotov said.

He said the Berlin conference was worthwhile because it aired various world questions and cleared the road to the Geneva parley — "of definite international significance" — on Korea and Indochina.

Chances of settling the seven-year-old Indochina war at Geneva, he said, depend on "the position of the French government and also on the position of the U.S.A., which is increasingly interfering in the affairs of Indochina."

"The main thing, however," he added, "will depend on recognition by all the conference participants of the need to settle the question of peace there, not through continuing a hopeless (French Union-Vietnam) war, but through an agreement conforming to the principles of freedom and the national independence of the peoples."

Famous Hitch to Show Here Monday

The famous Wilson and Co. six-horse hitch will be on exhibit here Monday, March 8 for a free showing in downtown Hope. The showing is sponsored by Hope Kiwanis Club. Ministers will show in the school auditorium on Thursday and Friday nights, March 25 and 26.

Also appearing in Hope Monday will be one of the famous Curtis Candy Company ponies which will be given away in a color contest now in progress in Arkansas.

GOP Leader Cleaned Up in Horses

NEW YORK (AP) — J. Russell Sprague, former Republican national committeeman who resigned his GOP post last fall when a political storm brewed over his harness racing track holdings says he netted $194,000 in one year on the sale of stock he brought for $2,000.

Sprague was one of nine witnesses testifying yesterday at a special state commission's public hearings aimed at purging the state's multimillion-dollar harness racing industry.

Sprague, 67, long a power in Nassau County politics and a political intimate of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, said he got into racing in 1945 when he was Nassau County executive and elective job.

In that year, he said, the late Andrew J. Weston, Long Island contractor, gave him a chance to buy a 40 per cent share of the old Cedar Point Trotting Assn., then running at Roosevelt Raceway on Long Island, for $2,000.

He said he sold the stock at net-after-tax of $196,000 the following year, when Cedar Point's racing license was bought by the Nassau Trotting Assn.

He said he sold out because of a movement to get Nassau County, on Long Island, a share of the pari-mutuel take and there were political implications involved.

Nurses Cry as Two Men Go to Death

COULMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Forty-one student nurses, several of them crying, watched as two murderers were electrocuted here today.

The nurses, students at the state mental hospital, attended the executions voluntarily. They were among 100 spectators who crowded the small state penitentiary death house as Lander Ray Gantt 31 of Gastonia N. C. and Shelton H. Gaine 24 of Hartsville died in the electric chair.

Gantt and Gaine convicted of the robbery-slitting of Myrtle Beach taxi driver Robert D. Oliver in 1949, walked calmly into the death chamber. Neither appeared nervous, anti's lat words were, "All I want to say is that we're innocent of any crime in this state or help those who persecuted us."

The defense had claimed it had evidence that Oliver was killed in North Carolina and not in South Carolina.

Gaine read part of the 51st Psalm, beginning, "Have mercy upon me O God."

Several nurses broke into tears. Hospital officials said the nurses attended because of "an unusual interest in the sociological aspects of community life." Miss Martha Bradley, director of nursing education, said they wanted to be in a better position to discuss capital punishment.

Japanese House Lowers Spending

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's dominant lower house today passed Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's "austerity" budget, which boosts defense spending while slashing many other government expenses.

The vote showed 303 conservatives of three parties lining up against 143 Socialists and splinter party members to give the bill an easy victory.

The budget calls for almost $2,800,000,000 for fiscal 1954-55. This is about $2 million less than last year.

Fourteen per cent will go for defense, up 2 per cent from last year.

Says People Distrustful of the Future

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul G. Hoffman, head of the Studebaker Corp., says the American people are "distrustful of the future" and this attitude is responsible in large part for the nation's current economic troubles.

Hoffman mentioned lagging auto sales as an index. He discussed the nation's economic state of mind yesterday in announcing that the Advertising Council will open April 1 a national campaign designed to neutralize recession talk by playing up the prospects of economic growth. Hoffman is chairman of the council's public policy committee.

As Hoffman spoke out, there were new reports of layoffs in the auto industry — in his own company — and on the New York Central Railroad. But two auto makers, Chrysler and Hudson, issued back to work calls for employees they had laid off because of dropping car sales.

In the general employment picture, the Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security reported last night the number of workers claiming unemployment compensation during the week ended Feb. 20 was 2,168,200 — just 10,200 below a week earlier when the total reached the highest level since February, 1950.

The bureau also reported an easing of layoffs and some recalls of workers during the week ended Feb. 27.

Only a little more than half the nation's labor force of roughly 60 million is covered by unemployment compensation.

President Eisenhower has picked this month to indicate whether business will pick up or the government may have to step in and give the economy a short in the arm.

Godfrey Is Grounded for a Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Civil Aeronautics Board examiner recommended today that television star Arthur Godfrey be grounded for six months for serious violations of flying safety rules.

Examiner Albert H. Ruppard said he recommended the maximum period of suspension of Godfrey's pilot's license "in view of the gravity of the violations."

The suspension period will start March 16 unless Godfrey appeals the examiner's decision by March 15. The TV wit's attorney said he has not decided whether to appeal. He said he wants to study the detailed decision first.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration had accused Godfrey of "careless" flying when he flew close to the control tower at Teterboro, N. J., Jan. 7 in taking off in his twin-engine DC-3.

Godfrey admitted he did obey tower orders but insisted he was forced to do so by a gusty wind. Ruppard said Godfrey violated traffic rules in the take-off and also was in violation of regulations because his CAA medical certificate had expired six months earlier.

Ruppard said that in addition to the six-month suspension Godfrey should be grounded for an additional period if necessary until he takes a flight test and examination by a CAA agent to qualify for operation of a DC-3.

The CAA had asked the board to suspend his license for at least 30 days.

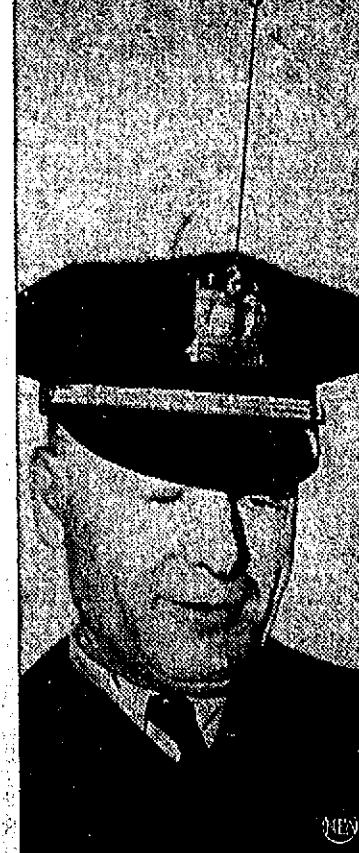

In recommending the maximum suspension period of six months, the examiner said he was convinced Godfrey deliberately turned his plane toward the control tower. Occupants of the tower had said the DC-3 came so close they ran for safety.

Ruppard said there appears to be "no apparent reason why the plane could not have been turned back on to its proper course in the space between the runway and the tower."

Godfrey had said gusty winds forced him to fly close to the tower, and to planes which stood on the airport landing strip, but he insisted safety was his primary consideration.

Civil Aeronautics Administrator F. B. Lee on Jan. 21 filed a complaint against Godfrey charging violation of airport traffic regulations. Lee also said Godfrey's flying created a "collision hazard" and that Godfrey lacked the necessary medical certificate showing he had met physical requirements for his rating.

Godfrey filed a statement disputing Lee's charges but waived formal hearings.

UNDER YOUR HAT — Sgt. Albert Wilson models the new radio hat, being used by Atlantic City, N. J., police. The only visible sign of the radio is the antenna which extends from the hat badge. Inside the hat is a four-tube radio, which is the size of a package of cigarettes. It was designed by Lawrence Smith, police department radio technician.

Coffee Prices Blamed on the Frost

WASHINGTON (UP) — Four housewives go before a special senate subcommittee today prepared to put the blame on frost for the high price of coffee.

The housewives, all officials of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, recently returned from a trip to Brazil at the invitation of the Brazilian government. After viewing thousands of acres of frost-damaged coffee trees, they came back convinced it was the weather, not speculators, that caused the price hike.

Invited to testify before a senate banking subcommittee investigating the soaring cost of coffee were Mrs. Theodore S. Chapman, Jerseyville, Ill., first vice president of the federation; Mrs. Zaio W. Schroeder, Grosse Pointe, Mich., the federation's international affairs chairman; Mrs. Gilbert F. Loeve, Waterville, Me., chairman of the consumer committee; and Mrs. Carl E. Swanbeck of Huron, O., a Republican candidate for the Ohio legislature.

When the returned from their inspection tour, the clubwoman noted that even in Brazil the world's largest coffee producer a small cup of coffee costs six cents. And they said the coffee South American housewives sip is inferior to the brand shipped north.

Meanwhile, the Inter-American economic and social council issued a report today spelling more bad news for coffee drinkers. It said the Brazilian frost "has dimmed the outlook for an adequate world supply of coffee for the next five years."

However the organization blamed the recent price hike on "a long era of poor prices... which left the industry on its knees" and the world supply of coffee at its lowest point in recent years.

The report said the July 4 frost destroyed about one-fifth of the Brazilian coffee crop and 80 per cent of the young trees planted in 1950 "worsening the outlook for coffee prices for the next five years."

The report is the result of a study undertaken by the council's special commission on coffee which called a special session at the Pan American union last month after the price rise provoked demands for congressional investigations and boycotts.

Blackwell Quits, Arm Won't Respond

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Ewell Blackwell, veteran right handed pitcher with the New York Yankees, quit baseball today because of a sore arm.

The former National League star with the Cincinnati Reds dropped out in mid-season last year because of arm trouble but was attempting a comeback this spring and had been doing so well that Manager Casey Stengel had picked him to oppose the St. Louis Cardinals in tomorrow's first spring training game.

However, Blackwell told Stengel early today "My arm is hurting again. I'm through. I'm having to use gloves."

Blackwell operated a liquor store in St. Petersburg. He will stay there.

WEATHER FORECAST

ARKANSAS: Considerable cloudiness through Saturday, occasional light rain or snow Saturday in south this afternoon tonight, no important change in temperature, lowest tonight in the 30's.

Stevens Not Supported, Says Resigning Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the Army's chief aides has resigned, saying he was not supported by the Army's top brass in his fight against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

John F. Kane, a special assistant under Stevens and before under former Army Sec. Frank Pace, announced his resignation before his $10,000-a-year salary yesterday in a letter congratulating Stevens on the gallantry you are trying to put up with the Army.

Kane, reached by phone, said he was not supported by the Army's top brass in his fight against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Kane said he was not supported by the Army's top brass in his fight against Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

But the only official who stood above Stevens was Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Young, then Defense Secretary Wilson, finally, President Eisenhower. Kane did say he excluded every body in the Army from his list of support.

The Chicago Tribune said last night that Stevens was "reported" to have resigned. But associates said Kane said early today the secretary "absolutely" and "definitely" resigned.

Stevens, away from Washington, could not be reached for comment. Administration officials said Kane had been emboldened by controversy since Stevens said weeks ago that he would stand by and allow Army officials to be browbeaten by congressional committees or by the press.

This happened after Kane, who was a close aide to Stevens, was named to a post at Camp Kilmer, N. J., where he was to be in charge of the discharge of Mr. Irving Berlin, a dental officer who was called a "Fifth Amendment Communist."

Stevens ordered Zwicker and other general to ignore any McCarthy subpoenas, but later rescinded this order after a "peace conference" with McCarthy and Republican members of McCarthy's state investigations subcommittee.

Egypt Plans Election of Assembly

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Egypt is to elect a constituent assembly in July. This step toward restoring the Nile nation's parliament was announced by the new military regime last night. It promised also to end press censorship immediately except for defense matters, and wipe out the martial law imposed when King Farouk was deposed in 1952.

The 250-member constituent assembly, to draft a constitution, will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

These decisions were reached in consultation with the Egyptian elder statesmen. The elder men were ex-Premier Ali Maher, appointed ministers ago to head a 50-man committee to constitute a new constitution, and Abdel Sonhoury, president of the Egyptian State Council (supreme council).

Both President Mohammed Naguib, a major general, and Minister Gamal Abdel Nasser, a colonel, central figures in the council's shakeup last year, stirred the nation's attention on the heat of terms.

The membership at the new assembly was not yet announced. It was said to be a mix of military and civilian members, including some of the ousted Farouk's ministers.

The new assembly will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

The new assembly will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

The new assembly will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

The new assembly will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

The new assembly will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

The new assembly will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

The new assembly will be inaugurated July 2, the second anniversary of the bloodless coup that ousted the 12-year-old Farouk.

SOCIETY

Phone 7-3431 Between 9 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Calendar

Monday March 6
The Young People of the First Methodist Church will hold a sale at 12 o'clock, Saturday, March 6th, at 207 South Walnut. They will sell dish towels, aprons, pot holders, pot plants, and hot dogs and cold drinks.

Tuesday March 7
Sunday morning, Mr. Troy Smith of Texarkana, instructor of the Bible Class in Hope, will be guest speaker for the Junior Girls' Auxiliary of the First Baptist Church. The subject of the class are urged to be present.

Monday March 8
The Union Meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service, First Methodist Church will be held Monday, March 8, at 2 o'clock, at the church. Circle Four will have charge of the program. Mrs. Hamilton will use as her theme, "Women of the Bible."

The Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist Church will have a meeting on Monday night, March 8, at 8 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Miles, 1000 South Main street.

The Children's Auxiliary Circle of the First Baptist Church will meet at 4 o'clock on Monday afternoon.

BREITGER

FINAL DAY
Double Entertainment

GUN BELT

TECHNICOLOR
MONTGOMERY

ALSO
GIG YOUNG, MALA POWERS

THE LOST PLANET

Color Cartoon
Gig Young, Mala Powers

SUN, MON, TUES.

Gig Young, Mala Powers

GEE!

But it's Great!

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

CATTY CORNERED

Color Cartoon
Late World News

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME

Color Cartoon
Donald O'Connor, Janet Leigh

L. R. Youth Gets Appointment

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) has named Tom Stein Murphree, 501 Holly, Little Rock for appointment to the U. S. Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Blonde Note — Corinne Has Joined Up

BY BB HOMAS
HOOLYWOOD (AP) — Note to the blondes of America: Although Lana Turner has left your ranks Corinne Calvet has joined up.

The talkative French beauty is a ravishing blonde these days, and that's not the only thing new in her life.

"I have also got myself a new agent, a new car, a new wardrobe and I am eating meat for the first time in my life," she says. "And I have a new attitude toward men. When I see one who looks attractive, I can look now."

Corinne is also entering a new phase of her career. She is making her first television film, a Screen Gems production for the Ford Theater, when I found her on the Columbia studio set, her reddish locks were gone. She was combing her long blond hair.

She explained that all the changes in her life have come about since the end of her alliance to actor John Bromfield.

"I would have gone blond sooner," she said, "but he wouldn't let me. You know how men are—they like to keep their women down. They don't want their wives to be too appealing to other men."

"I like the new look. Before now, I have always been very natural. I had my own shade of hair, I never used false eyelashes and my makeup was very simple. Nothing was artificial. Now I do think differently. I like artifice; I think it is exciting."

About the meat business—she has not been a strict vegetarian. Following her mother's custom, she ate no red meat, only fish and fowl. Now she's a beef-eater, and she likes that too.

She regrets the end of her union to Bromfield.

"We had five wonderful years," she explained. "Then we got to the point where we could no longer get along together."

"There is no bitterness between us. John is a fine fellow."

She indicated she will be wary of a future alliance. Right now she's enjoying her fling. And she doesn't think a movie career and home routine can mix.

"Believe me, I know," she sighed. "I tried it for five years. Perhaps a dramatic actress can do it, although they are temperamental and must be pretty hard to live with."

"I think it's hard for a glamorous actress to combine her work with being a housewife. To be glamorous, you have to have a certain aura about you. You can't just throw it off once you are home; it becomes phony that way. You have to have a bit of glamour all the time, and it doesn't look convincing in the kitchen."

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force announced today the names of 114 officers and airmen, previously listed as missing in action in Korea, who are now determined or presumed to be dead.

This reduces to 109 the number of Air Force men still classified as missing in action.

The new list includes 1st Lt. Robert E. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Anderson, Cabot Ark.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Central Airlines, Fort Worth, has asked the Civil Aeronautics Board for permission to operate between Fort Smith, Ark., and Dallas and Fort Worth.

Central said Fort Smith lacks direct air service with the Dallas-Fort Worth area and has an immediate and substantial need for it.

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Mark Townsend of Stuttgart, Ark., is the new president of Southern Hardwood Producers Inc.

Townsend was elected yesterday at the 19th annual convention here.

A box of gifts.
Mrs. Vance Marcum, Mrs. Hazel Alexander and Mrs. Elva Kay assisted the hostesses in serving refreshments.

NEW DEALER
Arkansas Gazette
B. L. RETTIG
6 A. M. Delivery
Phone 7-3381 or 7-3866

NEW NON-CANCELLABLE
HOSPITAL POLICY
Issued by
HOME SECURITY LIFE
INS. CO.

Agree — Birth to 100 years
Guarantee — premium will never increase
On the water — hospital or doctor in the world
Call or write your reliable local agent

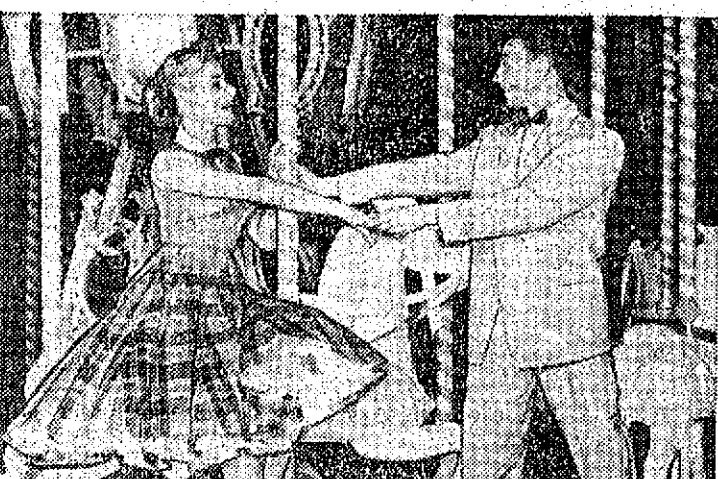

CECIL WEAVER
Phone 7-3143, P. O. Box 104

Saturday &amp; Sunday at Rialto

TOM CONWAY questions E. V. BARTOK in a scene from the Lippert Pictures release, "NORMAN CONQUEST."

Starts Sunday at the Saenger

JANET LEIGH and DONALD O'CONNOR in a dance routine from Universal-Internationals "WALKING MY BABY BACK HOME."

PRESCOTT NEWS

Mrs. Dan Pittman Sr.
Hostess to W. S. C. Circle 2
Mrs. Dan Pittman Sr. was hostess to Circle Two of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church at her home on Monday afternoon with 18 members present.

The business was conducted by the chairman, Mrs. J. B. Hesterly. Mrs. George Green directed the program and presented Mrs. A. E. Pearson, Mrs. Burke Shelton, Mrs. S. V. Scott and Mrs. Gene Hale in a panel discussion on "Our Spanish Speaking Neighbors."

The devotional talk on "Sowing Seeds of Love" was given by Mrs. Blain Hays.

A salad and desert course with Russian tea was served.

W. S. C. S. Circle 3
Meets in Kliney Home
Eight members of Circle 3 of the W. S. C. S. of the First Methodist Church met on Monday afternoon in the home of the Chairman, Mrs. L. D. Kliney.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Glen Hairston gave the devotional on "Sowing Seeds of Love" and led in prayer. She also presented the program on the topic "Our Spanish Speaking Neighbors."

A dessert course was served at the close of the meeting.

Presbyterian Circle
No. One Meets
Circle One of the Women of the Presbyterian Church met on Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. L. McRae Sr. with Mrs. Mary Montgomery and Miss Jennie Lewis assisting hostess.

Mrs. McRae, chairman, voiced the opening prayer and conducted the business. The roll was called and the minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. D. L. McRae Jr.

Mrs. Bob Robertson gave the Bible study on "Boldness and Opposition."

Mrs. Jim Nelson, World Mission Chairman, asked that members pray each day at 10 o'clock for United Missions. She also presented the program on "Our No. 1 Task."

The meeting ended with sentence prayers.

A salad course was served at the close of the meeting.

Presbyterian Circle 3
Meets Monday Night
Circle Three of the Women of the Presbyterian Church met on Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Max Bryant, chairman.

Mrs. Bryant presided and opened the meeting with prayer. During the business session it was voted to meet at 7:30 each month.

Stolen Auto Is Found Burned
BLYTHEVILLE (AP) — Sheriff William Berryman said today that the burned out hulk of a car stolen in Memphis Monday was found yesterday. The car was supposed to have contained $5,000 worth of jewels.

Berry said the auto was found about a half mile from the Arkansas Missouri border north of here and it had been stripped of everything removable, then burned. He said there was no trace of the jewels.

H. E. Allen, a salesman for a wholesale jewelry firm told Memphis police Monday night that his car containing $5,000 worth of jewelry samples had been stolen. Residents in the area reported a fire Monday night, but it wasn't until yesterday that police found the vehicle on a secluded side road.

There is a species of flea which feeds only on field mice. Scientists think that whales have relatively high intelligence. About 10 million people in the United States have some form of heart or blood vessel disease.

POPPIE GAG — Hollywood starlet Joan Weldon has been chosen "Buddy Poppy Girl" by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. She will head the sale of poppies to aid the veterans.

OME, Italy (UP) — A glamorous daughter of a prominent lawyer testified today she suspected her blue-blooded former lover and the son of the Italian foreign minister were "somehow mixed up" in the sensational death of a 21-year-old Roman beauty.

Anna Maria Moneta Gaglio, 23-year-old star witness, testified in the opening day of the resumed trial of journalist Silvano Muto in Rome's penal court. The case dubbed Italy's "scandal of the century" involves alleged narcotics traffic, sex, good-time girls and top-level politicians.

Miss Moneta Gaglio, whom the press has labeled "The Black Swan," said her suspicions about Piero Piccioni, son of Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni, and about the wealthy Marchese Ugo Montagna, her one-time lover, arose from an overheard telephone conversation between the two "good friends."

All Italy has been agog over the case stirred up by Muto, 26-year-old editor and publisher of the sensational magazine Attualita.

He charged that beautiful Wilma Montesi, who was found dead and half-disrobed on a lonely beach outside Rome last April 12, died of an overdose of narcotics. Police said she drowned.

Muto was charged by the state with information liable to disturb with spreading false and tendentious public order.

Miss Moneta Gaglio, daughter of a Milan lawyer of a prominent family, said she contacted Muto after reading his article because it "confirmed my suspicions" about the death. She said she wanted to get names from him because "I had my suspicions about Ugo Montagna."

In the month of April or May (1933) I overheard a strange telephone conversation," she told the court. "I had good reason to suspect that Piccioni and Montagna were somehow mixed up in that affair."

She implied that the telephone conversation came after the girl's body found.

The magazine story directly implicated the Marchese Ugo Montagna in allegations of narcotics traffic and sex orgies at the St. Hubert Hunting Club, which is frequented by Italy's nobility.

Newspapers pointed out that Piero Piccioni, son of foreign minister Attilio Piccioni and a score or more of other prominent personalities were on the exclusive club's membership list.

The case has been in the headlines in Italy ever since a preliminary hearing in January when Muto said he got his information from an existentialist artist's model and the daughter of a Milan lawyer who said it had been her aim to "live life to the full."

The lawyer's daughter, 23-year-old Anna Maria Moneta Gaglio is the star attraction of the trial.

A descendant of a prominent family, she told reporters she was for a long time the mistress of the middle-aged Marchese Montagna and that the gave her an allowance of 500,000 lire ($800) a month.

The circumstances of Wilma Montesi's death are not directly at issue in the case against Muto. But every newspaper in Italy has expressed doubts of the correctness of the police statement that she drowned while treating her foot for eczema by wading in the sea on the wet and stormy day she died — April 12, 1933.

Her body was found sprawled on the desolate beach minus dress shoes stockings. A loose jacket was buttoned around her shoulders.

Muto was charged by the state with information liable to disturb with spreading false and tendentious public order.

Miss Moneta Gaglio, daughter of a Milan lawyer of a prominent family, said she contacted Muto after reading his article because it "confirmed my suspicions" about the death. She said she wanted to get names from him because "I had my suspicions about Ugo Montagna."

In the month of April or May (1933) I overheard a strange telephone conversation," she told the court. "I had good reason to suspect that Piccioni and Montagna were somehow mixed up in that affair."

She implied that the telephone conversation came after the girl's body found.

The magazine story directly implicated the Marchese Ugo Montagna in allegations of narcotics traffic and sex orgies at the St. Hubert Hunting Club, which is frequented by Italy's nobility.

Newspapers pointed out that Piero Piccioni, son of foreign minister Attilio Piccioni and a score or more of other prominent personalities were on the exclusive club's membership list.

The case has been in the headlines in Italy ever since a preliminary hearing in January when Muto said he got his information from an existentialist artist's model and the daughter of a Milan lawyer who said it had been her aim to "live life to the full."

The lawyer's daughter, 23-year-old Anna Maria Moneta Gaglio is the star attraction of the trial.

A descendant of a prominent family, she told reporters she was for a long time the mistress of the middle-aged Marchese Montagna and that the gave her an allowance of 500,000 lire ($800) a month.

The circumstances of Wilma Montesi's death are not directly at issue in the case against Muto. But every newspaper in Italy has expressed doubts of the correctness of the police statement that she drowned while treating her foot for eczema by wading in the sea on the wet and stormy day she died — April 12, 1933.

Italy Agog Over Glamor Set Slaying

OME, Italy (UP) — A glamorous daughter of a prominent lawyer testified today she suspected her blue-blooded former lover and the son of the Italian foreign minister were "somehow mixed up" in the sensational death of a 21-year-old Roman beauty.

Anna Maria Moneta Gaglio, 23-year-old star witness, testified in the opening day of the resumed trial of journalist Silvano Muto in Rome's penal court. The case dubbed Italy's "scandal of the century" involves alleged narcotics traffic, sex, good-time girls and top-level politicians.

Miss Moneta Gaglio, whom the press has labeled "The Black Swan," said her suspicions about Piero Piccioni, son of Foreign Minister Attilio Piccioni, and about the wealthy Marchese Ugo Montagna, her one-time lover, arose from an overheard telephone conversation between the two "good friends."

All Italy has been agog over the case stirred up by Muto, 26-year-old editor and publisher of the sensational magazine Attualita.

He charged that beautiful Wilma Montesi, who was found dead and half-disrobed on a lonely beach outside Rome last April 12, died of an overdose of narcotics. Police said she drowned.

Muto was charged by the state with information liable to disturb with spreading false and tendentious public order.

Miss Moneta Gaglio, daughter of a Milan lawyer of a prominent family, said she contacted Muto after reading his article because it "confirmed my suspicions" about the death. She said she wanted to get names from him because "I had my suspicions about Ugo Montagna."

In the month of April or May (1933) I overheard a strange telephone conversation," she told the court. "I had good reason to suspect that Piccioni and Montagna were somehow mixed up in that affair."

She implied that the telephone conversation came after the girl's body found.

The magazine story directly implicated the Marchese Ugo Montagna in allegations of narcotics traffic and sex orgies at the St. Hubert Hunting Club, which is frequented by Italy's nobility.

Newspapers pointed out that Piero Piccioni, son of foreign minister Attilio Piccioni and a score or more of other prominent personalities were on the exclusive club's membership list.

The case has been in the headlines in Italy ever since a preliminary hearing in January when Muto said he got his information from an existentialist artist's model and the daughter of a Milan lawyer who said it had been her aim to "live life to the full."

The lawyer's daughter, 23-year-old Anna Maria Moneta Gaglio is the star attraction of the trial.

A descendant of a prominent family, she told reporters she was for a long time the mistress of the middle-aged Marchese Montagna and that the gave her an allowance of 500,000 lire ($800) a month.

The circumstances of Wilma Montesi's death are not directly at issue in the case against Muto. But every newspaper in Italy has expressed doubts of the correctness of the police statement that she drowned while treating her foot for eczema by wading in the sea on the wet and stormy day she died — April 12, 1933.

Her body was found sprawled on the desolate beach minus dress shoes stockings. A loose jacket was buttoned around her shoulders.

Muto was charged by the state with information liable to disturb with spreading false and tendentious public order.

Miss Moneta Gaglio, daughter of a Milan lawyer of a prominent family, said she contacted Muto after reading his article because it "confirmed my suspicions" about the death. She said she wanted to get names from him because "I had my suspicions about Ugo Montagna."

In the month of April or May (1933) I overheard a strange telephone conversation," she told the court. "I had good reason to suspect that Piccioni and Montagna were somehow mixed up in that affair."

She implied that the telephone conversation came after the girl's body found.

The magazine story directly implicated the Marchese Ugo Montagna in allegations of narcotics traffic and sex orgies at the St. Hubert Hunting Club, which is frequented by Italy's nobility.

Newspapers pointed out that Piero Piccioni, son of foreign minister Attilio Piccioni and a score or more of other prominent personalities were on the exclusive club's membership list.

The case has been in the headlines in Italy ever since a preliminary hearing in January when Muto said he got his information from an existentialist artist's model and the daughter of a Milan lawyer who said it had been her aim to "live life to the full."

The lawyer's daughter, 23-year-old Anna Maria Moneta Gaglio is the star attraction of the trial.

A descendant of a prominent family, she told reporters she was for a long time the mistress of the middle-aged Marchese Montagna and that the gave her an allowance of 500,000 lire ($800) a month.

The circumstances of Wilma Montesi's death are not directly at issue in the case against Muto. But every newspaper in Italy has expressed doubts of the correctness of the police statement that she drowned while treating her foot for eczema by wading in the sea on the wet and stormy day she died — April 12, 1933.

Her body was found sprawled on the desolate beach minus dress shoes stockings. A loose jacket was buttoned around her shoulders.

Muto was charged by the state with information liable to disturb with spreading false and tendentious public order.

Miss Moneta Gaglio, daughter of a Milan lawyer of a prominent family, said she contacted Muto after reading his article because it "confirmed my suspicions" about the death. She said she wanted to get names from him because "I had my suspicions about Ugo Montagna."

Attorney Seeks Post of Judge

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Floyd Terrill, a Little Rock attorney today filed for nomination in the Democratic primaries for judge of the 1st Division, Sixth Judicial Circuit. The circuit is composed of Pulaski and Perry counties.

Incumbent Judge Harry Robinson has announced his candidacy for attorney.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

The eagle was used as a national emblem 5,000 years ago by the Mesopotamian city of Lagash.

BLONDIE

By Chick Young

OZARK IRE

By R. C. ...

Grecian Gesture

ACROSS

- Greece's capital is —
- It is known as the Kingdom of —
- Teeter
- Interstice
- Rounded
- It has had many famous —
- Summer (Fr.)
- Hawaiian
- Wreath
- Noun suffix
- Rots flax
- Explosive
- Marshes
- Wandered
- It has a very irregular coast
- Pinnacle
- Period
- Art (Latin)
- Decay
- Low sand hill
- Bread makers
- Camera's eye
- Circle part
- Bamboo-like grass
- Social insect
- College cheer
- Go (Scot.)
- Bullfighter
- Mental condition
- Storehouses
- Anointed
- Heap anew
- Chargers

DOWN

- Flower
- Seesaw
- To this
- Mariner's direction
- Burmese wood
- Perispires
- Custom
- Age
- Permit
- Medicinal wash
- Assert
- Soothsayers
- Conclusion
- Demons
- Acrid
- Greater quantity
- Gaze
- Its monetary unit is the — (pl.)
- Implied
- Ensnare
- Feminine undergarment
- Entertain
- Closed
- Tardier
- Got up
- Greeks are noted for heroic
- Roof final
- Unit of reluctance
- Ontario (ab.)
- Scottish sheepfold

Answer to Previous Puzzle

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. Williams

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

With Major Troop

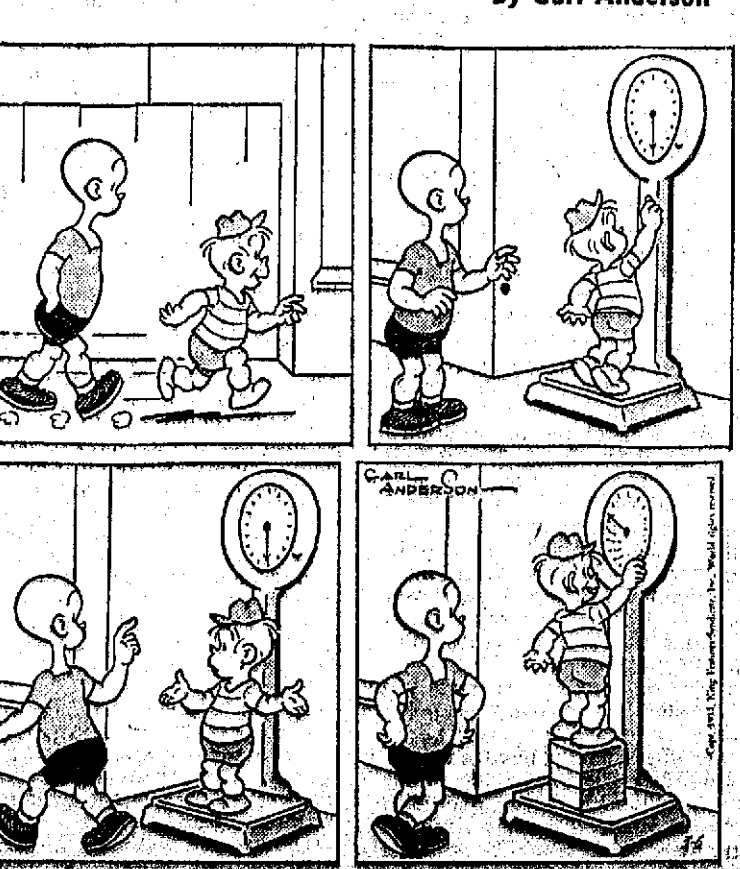

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Hershberger

HENRY

By Carl Anderson

VIC FLINT

By Michael O'Malley and Ralph ...

WASH TUBBS

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

By Edgar Morris

BUGS BUNNY

ALLEY OOP

By V. T. Ham

CHRIS WELKIN, Planeteer

By Russ Winters

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

By Wilson Smith

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

